

Nazis Lied To Czechs And To England; Also Broke Promise

(Editor's note: This is the second of three stories for afternoon newspapers on the secret telephone conversations of Nazi officials recorded at the time of the Austrian Anschluss.)

By DANIEL DE LUCE Copyright, 1945. By The Associated Press Berlin, Nov 6 (AP)—Even as Germany prepared to consolidate her Austrian conquest in 1938, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop were conspiring to ally British fears and clear the way for further aggression—the seizure of Czechoslovakia.

The pattern of lies which passed for Nazi diplomacy had one chief purpose: To lull Britain into inactivity with vague promises of a German-British understanding.

Transcripts of international telephone calls between Nazi leaders, salvaged from a Berlin rubble pile by the merest chance, record these conversations which took place between von Ribbentrop in London and Goering in Berlin immediately after German troops marched into Austria in response to a trumped-up request for intervention:

Surprised England Goering: "The sympathy for national Socialism (in Austria) is complete and, to us, surprising. * * * Actually these were all our people. That is the explanation for the wonderful behavior which surprised even us. But it is true—except for the Jews in Vienna, apart from these black ravens no one is seen who is against us."

Ribbentrop: "The situation here is—for the moment they have had a great surprise. But generally they are looking at things with common sense."

Goering: "Simply propose to Halifax (Lord Halifax, then foreign secretary) that a couple of really first rate people whom he trusts should be sent by him so they can see the picture. I must say, yesterday, you know, when they were saying there the most serious things, war and so forth, I had to laugh lightly because where could be found the conscienceless statesman who would send millions of people to death again because two German brother peoples were once more together * * *"

False Promises Ribbentrop: "Yes, that is absolutely laughable. It is also realized here."

Goering: " * * * The Czech minister who was with me yesterday explained the rumors that Czechoslovakia had mobilized were made completely out of thin air and they would be satisfied with my word I would not undertake the slightest thing against Czechoslovakia."

Ribbentrop: "The explanation was plainly given when I spoke very intimately with Halifax and (Prime Minister Neville) Chamberlain."

Goering: " * * * We threaten in no way the Czechoslovak republic. But the Czechoslovak republic on the contrary has now the opportunity to arrive at a friendly, reasonable relationship with us. Everything is on the supposition that France remains reasonable and does nothing."

Ribbentrop: "(I told Halifax our principal opinions, also regarding a German-English understanding."

"Warm Understanding" Goering: "I stood for a most warm German-English understanding. If the English want a really honorable understanding and if the English recognize reciprocally that we also are a proud, free people, then nobody could be more glad than I. For at least we are two brother peoples."

Ribbentrop: "I got the impression Chamberlain also has the will for an understanding. * * * (Halifax) Remarked that he was only worried for the Czechoslovakian republic. * * * I told him we had no interest and no purpose to do anything there. On the contrary, if we Germans are treated reasonably there, we will also come to an understanding there."

Goering: "It seems as if all is wonderful peace."

Little more than six months later, Nazi soldiers violated Czechoslovakian soil and occupied the Sudetenland. The Nazi leaders, marching over a pathway of broken promises, had taken another long step toward turning the "wonderful peace" into global war—and ultimate disaster.

Cessna Resigns As Troop 77 Scoutmaster

Jack Cessna, scoutmaster of Troop 77 since its formation four and a half years ago under the sponsorship of the local Rotary and Lions clubs, has resigned the troop leadership effective December 1. He has announced his decision to the sponsoring committees from the two service clubs. Mr. Cessna said, however, he expects to continue his interest and activity in scouting.

Troop 77 has been one of the most active troops in the Black Walnut district and in the last several years regularly won a large share of the awards at the periodic courts of honor.

COUNCIL FINDS TOWN FUNDS IN GOOD CONDITION

With a balance of $32,587 in the general fund at the beginning of this month and a $10,000 margin left in their 1945 budget for the expenditures of the last two months of the year, members of the borough council Monday evening agreed that Gettysburg's financial outlook is satisfactory for 1945.

The report of Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore showed expenditures last month amounted to $3,242 with receipts for the month at approximately the same figure.

Council received Monday evening contributions totaling $110 from eight citizens, including three members of council, to be used to help pay for the Tiber survey being made by an engineering firm to provide information on the best long-range flood control program for that stream.

Direct Insurance Survey

The sums received and turned over to the borough treasurer included: $25 from Glenn L. Bream, $10 from C. A. Heiges, $25 from Fred A. Hummelbaugh, $10 from R. E. McGuigan, $5 from Glenn Guise, $25 from L. D. Shealer and $10 from R. M. Hoffman. The survey is to cost a maximum of $850. The field work has been finished and paper work on the project is expected to be finished next month.

Receiving notice that a $1,600 fire insurance policy on the engine house is due for renewal, councilmen raised questions about insurance coverage on that and other borough properties and authorized Mr. Basehore to make a survey and report on the borough insurance setup.

A request for a sewer line extension on East Water street where there are no water lines was turned over to the sewer committee. Councilman Vernon Corle reported he has been notified that the parking meters and standards have been shipped from Chicago but have not yet arrived.

State to Remove Snow

A letter was received from the state highway department notifying the town that the scattering of cinders and the snow removal program on state routes passing through the town will be handled again this winter by the state highway department.

Councilman Corle reported that a local fire truck, which was driven to the Littlestown fire last week with the fanebelt not working, is laid up for motor repairs.

The monthly report of Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer showed these collections for last month: Building permits, $68; fines, $8; garbage, $126.50, and theater tax, $607.60. Mr. Basehore reported the receipt of $1,043 from the state in foreign fire insurance company taxes and was directed to turn the check over to the local fire company.

President H. M. Oyler presided at the meeting which adjourned in less than an hour. Councilmen L. D. Shealer, Harry J. Troxell, Harry E. Koch, Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Joseph D. Kendlehart and Vernon Corle attended.

SERGEANT HOME FROM BUFFALO STEAKS, RICE

Back from China, where a bar of soap, when you can get it, costs five cents in the army post exchange and $1 in Chinese money in the city, and cigarettes are 60 cents a carton in the PX and $50 downtown, with more of them downtown, T. Sgt. Ray O. Staley, 69 Stevens street, says "home never looked so good before."

Sgt. Staley went to China with a group of U. S. army men as instructors. He helped teach the Chinese combat troops in the use of rifles, machine guns and mortars and in tactics. The equipment was American.

"They learn rather easily," Sgt. Staley said of the Chinese troops. "They are of all ages, from 10 or 12 years old up. There is no conscription as we know it. I have seen them take men and boys right off the street and put them in the army."

25 Months In China

Entering the service in January, 1943, Sgt. Staley trained at Ft. McClellan, Ala. He spent 25 months in China, returning to his home here Monday night for a 45-day furlough before going to Camp Lee, Va. From Ft. McClellan, Sgt. Staley went to Durbin, South Africa, then to India, and flew the hump into China.

During the first part of his stay in China food and equipment was flown "over the hump," and Americans, like Chinese, were forced, for the most part, to "live off the land," since much more American equipment was needed.

TELLS HOW MAP UNIT CHARTED INVADED ISLES

The men at the War Mapping project at the Lee-Meade inn were greatly relieved when word of the surrender came before Japan was invaded, Lawrence M. Kennison, a map editor on the project, told members of the Lions club Monday evening in a talk at their weekly dinner meeting.

The mappers here knew how rugged was the shoreline of Japan's home islands and how inflexible were the elaborate shore defenses because they had made detailed maps of the coastal areas where the Allies would have had to make landings.

"Because we knew the Japs had subterranean defenses that could not be knocked out by air and sea power, we were dreading the time when the Americans would have to invade with certain heavy losses. It would have been like Iwo Jima only on a bigger scale," he asserted.

Mr. Kennison, who is an authority on Asiatic geography and languages, said the Navy has recently revealed that 2,000 tons of maps were used in the Pacific conquest and told of the part the local project played in producing many of those maps, especially the landing charts for the invasion targets.

Congratulates Community

Japs considered themselves experts at camouflage but actually they overdid it, Kennison said. "Their concealed installations stood out like sore thumbs on our aerial photographs and we were careful to put them on the maps we made. When the next photos of the area would come through the Jap installations would be missing," he added.

The speaker told of the difficulty encountered in translating captured Jap maps which employed 277 symbols. He also described efforts made by the mappers to indicate on their charts from aerial photos the contours of off-shore coral reefs about Pacific islands marked for invasion. The importance of off-shore contours became apparent after Tarawa, he said.

As he concluded Mr. Kennison congratulated this community for "keeping mum" about the map project and for giving fullest cooperation to the work that went forward at the inn.

President Glenn L. Bream presided with 54 Lions and guests in attendance. The guests included John R. Trimmer, York, a former district governor.

Garvin To Appoint Nominating Group

President Henry W. Garvin of the Chamber of Commerce will appoint a nominating committee to propose names for election to fill three directorships which will become vacant at the end of the year, it was announced following the November meeting of the board Monday evening.

Terms of Directors Edmund W. Thomas, Mares Sherman and Ralph Z. Oyler expire.

The nominating committee will report at a membership dinner meeting to be held Tuesday, November 20, at a place not yet announced. The annual election of directors will take place at that meeting, Chamber officials said. The members will be guests of the Chamber at the dinner.

R. C. Home Service Cases Increasing

The Red Cross home service of Adams county handled 225 cases during October, an increase of 24 from the September total. Of these, 115 were army, 43 navy, 68 ex-service and nine civilian cases.

There were 112 new cases, 21 were re-opened, 50 were recurrent and 52 brought forward. Thirty home visits were made and 161 office interviews conducted.

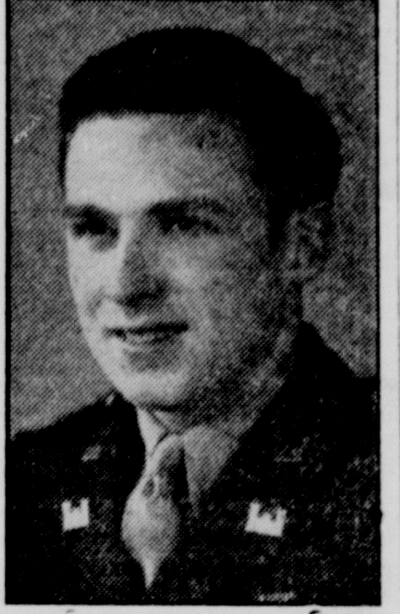

SPORTSMEN TO MEET

An important meeting of the Adams County Fish and Game club will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the George Martin shoe store.

YOUNGEST ARMY OFFICER HOME FROM OVERSEAS

First Lt. Clarence W. Epley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street, returned from 39 months' service overseas late Monday afternoon, with the Purple Heart, the Croix de Guerre from the French government, nine battle stars, three amphibious invasions and seven overseas service stripes on his right sleeve. Pieces of shrapnel are still imbedded in his liver, the result of an explosion of an anti-personnel mine in the fighting in the Saar Basin.

His homecoming took place on his father's 50th birthday anniversary.

LIEUTENANT EPLEY

The latter is a veteran of the first World War, with most of his two years' service spent overseas in the navy.

Lieutenant Epley, youngest Adams countyman to be commissioned in the army, took his oath on February 13, 1942 in the office of Colonel E. G. Arnold, at Gettysburg college. It was administered by Major John C. Hollinger. Young Epley was then 18 years of age. He was ordered to report to Camp Edwards, Mass., on June 16 of the same year and five weeks later was sent overseas with the amphibious engineers outfit.

In Oran Invasion

The following November, Lieut. Epley started combat action when he participated in the invasion of North Africa, at Oran. From there he saw action in the Tunisian campaign, Rome-Arno, Normandy on D-Day, Northern France, the Ardennes (Battle of the Bulge) and the Rhineland.

He was attached to the 531st Engineers, shore regiment, in the 1st Division for amphibious operation.

On February 9, 1945 Lieut. Epley and his outfit were clearing a mine field near Saarbrücken, Germany. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon one of his men kicked a trip-wire on an anti-personnel mine. The exploding shrapnel struck Epley in both shoulders, both arms and several pieces pierced his liver. He was evacuated to a collecting point in the rear and later to a field hospital where he was operated upon about 7 o'clock that evening. A week later he was flown to a base hospital in England.

The following June he was returned to France for limited assignment and remained with his outfit until he sailed from Le Havre October 22 arriving at Boston last Friday. He was processed through Camp Miles Standish and then sent to Indiantown Gap where he was given a three days' leave late Monday afternoon. On Wednesday he reports to the Fort George Gordon Meade hospital, near Baltimore, for further medical attention.

Another Close Call

One of Epley's close calls was on the Normandy beach. He, his sergeant and a navy man were advancing up the beach when they heard the whistle of an anti-personnel bomb. Epley and his sergeant dove.

SPEAKER TELLS ROTARIANS OF BRITISH GUIANA

Speaking in behalf of a better understanding among the nations of the world, and for a peace based on mutual trust, Robert Beharry, student at Gettysburg college, told members of the Gettysburg Rotary club Monday night that no one can know his own country unless he knows other countries.

"The world is too much concerned with economic rivalry," he said, "and has not become unified spiritually."

Mr. Beharry is of Indian descent, and is a subject of British Guiana. He spoke briefly of the Indians who inhabit Guiana and then told of the settlement of that country, first by the Dutch and later by the British, who gained possession in 1780 of the province now called British Guiana.

"Much of the lowland near the ocean is farm land," he said, "and the interior consists largely of forests and plateau, the economic resources of which are largely undeveloped. The entire province consists of 95,000 square miles and the population is 300,000."

Much Illiteracy

"British influence is dominant in the educational system and the church. While the school system consists of the elementary, high school and college, educational privileges are limited to the wealthier classes and there is therefore widespread illiteracy throughout the poorer classes."

"British Guiana, like other crown colonies," the speaker said, "has existed only for the benefit of the mother country and the resources of Guiana have not thus far been extensively developed by the British since farm and factory products from other colonies have supplied the British market."

Mr. Beharry declared that Guiana is a crown colony and that the governor is appointed by the king. A local representative body is elected by the people.

Clarence Nuss rendered two violin selections. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ruth Withrow.

James S. Cairns, president of the club, presided, with 46 members and guests in attendance. Guests included Rotarians Neaveh Crouse, Clay Crouse, D. S. Kammerer and Stanley Stover, Littlestown, and Alton A. Wentzel, Carlisle. Lt. Binks Palmer, New York city, was a guest of Milo Gallinger.

Here And There News Collected At Random

"Governor Edward Martin comes nearer to being a political power today than any Pennsylvanian since the days of the late U. S. Senator Boies Penrose, 'The President Maker,'" says John Lear in an article in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Martin built up his political strength by sponsoring the most progressive legislation fostered by Pennsylvania Republicans in a generation, the article states. The governor's steady rise is described in an article titled "Pennsylvania's Hidebound Revolutionary."

"With little more than a year of his four-year term left, Martin is at the point where most Pennsylvania governors are politically impotent. Unable to succeed themselves, their power usually is gone as soon as the second biennial legislature completes its appropriations. Martin has kept himself alive by creating a $70,000,000 postwar public works program," the article states.

"... it is taken for granted that if he wishes to do so he can name the Republican candidates for governor and United States Senator in 1946 and set the policy of the second biggest bloc of votes at the GOP Presidential convention in 1948. He himself may make the race for the U. S. Senate. . . . He never smokes, nurses one highball throughout an evening on the rare occasions when he drinks

DEFER ACTION ON FARM LABOR CAMP IN AREA

Adams county farmers and fruit growers who had under consideration the locating of a farm labor camp near Gettysburg at a meeting Monday evening in the court house here, will defer action until a committee appointed Monday night reports. No date has been set for the next meeting to hear this report.

Named on the committee to study camp possibilities were Oliver Heacock, Biglerville; Glen Slaybaugh, Gettysburg R. D.; Frank Yoder, Orrtanna; Fred Griest, Flora Dale; Luther Baltzley, Gettysburg R. D., and John Peters, Gardners.

Thirty farmers who were employers of imported help during the past season attended the meeting, presided over by J. E. Collins, Emergency farm labor representative. M. T. Hartman, farm agent, acted as secretary of the meeting.

Shortage Of Labor

A continued shortage of farm labor is anticipated for the coming year. At a previous meeting, it was decided to abandon the Old Forge camp because of the transportation problem, and it was felt by those attending Monday's meeting that a more centrally located labor camp is needed.

J. Earl McCord, State College, in charge of the emergency farm labor program in Pennsylvania, explained that Camp Sharpe will be used by the army until some time in the spring, then will revert to the Interior department and will undoubtedly be returned to the Gettysburg national park.

Mr. Griest reported on proceedings taken by growers at Martinsburg, W. Va., where he said they are planning to provide a work camp at an estimated cost of $100 per worker. Funds, he said, would be raised by assessing growers in proportion to the number of workers they anticipate hiring for the season.

He also gave a report on other sections of the country, particularly Connecticut, where he said, they were going ahead with plans for work camps, in some instances central and in others, small units with a central cafeteria.

The committee named Monday night will study camp possibilities and will call another meeting at such time as it feels matters need definite action.

DAD RETURNS; GIRL BETTER

Efforts of the Adams county chapter of the American Red Cross to have the navy send a Brushstom man home to see his seriously-ill nine-year-old daughter, have borne fruit.

S. I. Clifford R. Neiderer returned Saturday for three days, and Mrs. Neiderer told Miss Margaret McMillan, Red Cross secretary, today, that the condition of Elizabeth, who has been suffering from rheumatic fever and a serious heart condition, was greatly improved. Mr. Neiderer has returned to duty after his brief visit.

Efforts to obtain his release to return home began in July. The Red Cross sent five telegrams and three letters, stating the condition of the child, and the attending physician's opinion that a visit to his daughter might help in saving her life.

Seaman Neiderer had been slated to go to Japan, but he was re-routed to San Francisco and eventually home.

Teachers Oppose Saturday Session

Adams county teachers voted 100 to 77 against holding sessions of the annual institute on Saturday, at the closing session of the 1945 institute in St. James Lutheran church, November 3, a count of the votes completed Monday by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county school superintendent, reveals.

Sentimental thus expressed, while not binding upon the county school authorities, indicates, however, Dr. Bream said, that a majority of the teachers prefer to attend institute sessions on Thursday and Friday, rather than on Friday and Saturday.

Charge Against Husband Withdrawn

Charges were withdrawn by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Runkle, Chambersburg street, Gettysburg, against her husband, Harrison D. Runkle, for surety of the peace Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Runkle was arrested on his wife's complaint November 2 by Deputy Sheriff B. E. Bixler and released in $300 bail pending a hearing.

Weather Forecast

Fair and somewhat warmer tonight and Wednesday.

Legion Will Enlarge Local Home; Buy Stoner Property; Work Starts Early In '46

With the announcement Monday evening of their decision to purchase the C. A. Stoner estate property adjoining the present American Legion home on the south, officers of the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 disclosed elaborate plans for development of the two properties into a big new Legion home fronting 60 feet on Baltimore street and extending back 150 feet with a three-story structure.

Decision to buy the Stoner property was voted at the regular business meeting of the post Monday evening. The purchase price was not announced.

Building plans have been placed in the hands of the post trustees and a special building committee made up of veterans of both World Wars. Members of that group said the first step to be taken immediately will be the employment of an architect.

No Estimate on Cost

Members of the board of trustees are Harry J. Troxell, Joseph E. Smith and William T. Timmins. Commander Wilbur A. Geiselman is an ex-officio member of the building committee which includes Albert Cardenti, Cletus Smith and Morris Gitlin from World War I and H. D. Williams, Paul Hayne, Jr., and Roland Hess of World War II.

Post officers said the Legion will occupy all of its present building with the Gettysburg Hardware store to vacate its quarters. The post also will use the Stoner building.

A new decorative front will be built for the combined structures and both will be extended at three-story height to the rear for 150 feet from the pavement line. No estimates have yet been made on the probable cost involved.

Plan Banquet Hall, Dance Floor

The building committee is soliciting suggestions from the Legion membership on plans for the new home but these features already have tentatively been included:

A big dance floor and meeting room which also would serve as a banquet hall. Kitchen facilities will adjoin the banquet hall.

Bowling alleys will be constructed and it has been suggested that an indoor swimming pool be made a part of the plans.

Large quarters for the Ladies' Auxiliary with a cocktail lounge and a separate entrance. Facilities for the ladies will be planned specially for the convenience of rural members and their families who may wish to make the Legion Home their headquarters on visits to Gettysburg.

To Start As Soon As Possible

A tag bar for Legionnaires. Special quarters and facilities for the Sons and Daughters of the Legion.

Continuation of office quarters for the director of veterans' affairs, already housed in the first floor of the present Legion building.

Special rooms for playing pool. Possession of the Stoner building and the remainder of the present Legion building is expected in about 60 days. Work on the remodeling is to be started as soon after that as materials are available and plans are complete.

Have Over 500 Members

Predicting that membership in the post will climb to 800 or 1,000 this year, the Lentz post announced membership rolls already have topped the 500-mark for a new all-time record. Eighty-three new members were elected Monday evening, nearly all of them veterans of World War II or men who are still in service.

Lawrence M. Sheads, chairman of the Armistice Day committee, announced that exercises will be conducted in the Gettysburg high school auditorium at 10:45 o'clock next Monday morning with the Rev. George H. Berkhimer, Arendtsville, discharged army chaplain, as the speaker.

The post voted $5 to the National (Please Turn to Page 7)

Jap Torture

For a first hand word-picture of how the Japanese tortured and beat American prisoners, including an Adams countyman, The Gettysburg Times will publish the first official local account of these atrocities in Wednesday's edition. . . . it is Sergeant Henry B. Pecher's story of his long imprisonment in Japanese prison camps.

Sergeant Pecher was the first Adams countyman captured by the Japs shortly after the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. Liberated after Japan surrendered, Sergeant Pecher returned to his home last Friday evening and gave a complete account of his life in prison camps to a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

Accompanying the article will be photographs taken of Sergeant Pecher shortly before he was captured and after he had been a prisoner for some time. The latter photograph was taken by the Japs.

Don't fail to read this truthful, straight-forward article in Wednesday's Gettysburg Times.

BITTER CIVIL WAR LOOMING IN OLD CHINA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Fate certainly is making poor old China run the gauntlet.

Thus far the efforts at reconciliation between the Chinese Communists and the National government have failed to disclose any avenue of escape from the horror of a civil war which in fact is already under way although there has been no formal declaration of hostilities. Hard fighting has developed along the vital rail communications of North China.

Bitterness has been added to the situation through the charge by the Chinese Reds that American fighting forces have been in action against them. The Communist New China Daily News has blamed the claim that U. S. Lt. General Wedemeyer's promise that Americans would avoid participation in Chinese internal strife was "nothing but a lie."

Deny Charges

Both Washington and Chungking have denied these allegations categorically. That's as should be, for armed intervention in Chinese civil war is no part of Uncle Sam's business.

This column a week ago said that it looked as though the Chinese Communists were floundering on the conquest of Northern China—where they are in greatest strength—and Manchuria. Developments strengthen that belief.

Indications are that the Red strategy contemplates the seizure of Manchuria, with its well developed war industries and other resources, for a powerful base from which to strike at the National forces. The Communists already hold large industrial and agricultural areas in the Northern Chinese provinces of Shansi, Shensi, Shantung, Anhwei, Kiangsu and Hoppel.

Were the Red armies able to consolidate this great and rich territory, the natural development would be the establishment of a Chinese Soviet state, thus splitting China in two. And one wonders whether the war would halt with this partition of the once huge China, or whether it might continue to the bloody finality which would see one side completely crushed. A fight to a finish might mean years of torture for China's five hundred millions.

Chiang Is Blocked

Certainly the crisis now developing in Northern China is one of the greatest experienced by that country in the some 3,000 years of history.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had planned to land troops from the sea at Dairen and Port Arthur, the great Manchurian harbors, but according to information in Chungking his government hasn't been able to overcome Soviet objections to the use of these ports.

Chungking has taken encouragement from the report that the Russian troops would begin to withdraw on November 10 from Southwestern Manchuria along the Peiping-Mukden railway. However, it looks from here as though this might be of even greater benefit to the Chinese Reds. I fancy even, the Russian withdrawal will open up a strategic position.

Major Gifford Sent To El Paso, Texas

Major Roy W. Gifford, former member of the surgical staff at the Warner hospital, was ordered from Camp Bowie, Texas, on November 3 and sent to Beaumont General hospital at El Paso for duty on surgical service.

Doctor Gifford entered the service August 4, 1942, and served for some time at Fort Meade. On March 28 of this year he reported to McCloskey General hospital at Temple, Texas, on surgical service.

On September 1 he was ordered to the 126th Evacuation hospital unit at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, Texas, for Pacific duty. Overseas orders for the unit were cancelled September 6 due to the cessation of hostilities. On October 18 he was transferred to duty at the Regional hospital at Bowie from where he was sent last Saturday to El Paso.

Maryland Driver Forfeits $5 Bail

Angelo Kalivas, 600 Patapasco avenue, Baltimore, charged by borough police Sunday with running through a stop sign at South Washington and West Middle streets, forfeited bail of $5 and costs Monday afternoon when he failed to appear for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Kalivas crashed into an automobile operated by Miss Christine Reaver, 420 West Middle street. The latter suffered from shock and brush burns.

Second Ward Leads With Voting Light

With approximately half of today's voting time gone, only 528 men and women had cast their ballots in Gettysburg by 1:20 o'clock this afternoon when a check-up was made at the four polling places.

Reports from other sections of the county indicated a generally light vote with local contests attracting the voters in several districts. The county commissioners' office said the election is going smoothly. Judge Harvey Gross came here from York county about 10 a. m. and will remain until late afternoon to handle legal questions that may come up. Judge W. C. Sheely is holding court in McConnellsburg.

The polls close at 8 p. m.

This afternoon's checkup here showed these figures: First ward, first precinct, 115; second precinct, 122; Second ward, 169, and Third ward, 122.

SKF Goes To Court To End Picketing

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (AP)—SKF Industries, Inc., its three Philadelphia plants closed by a month-old strike, seeks a court injunction to prevent Local 2393, United Steel Workers of America (CIO), from continuing mass picketing. Five company officials testified before a three-man common pleas court panel yesterday that pickets prevented them from entering their offices.

President Judge Frank Smith, before hearings began, had attempted to effect settlement of the strike. Representatives of both the union and the company which manufactures ball bearings charge each other with breaking the labor contract.

MOLOTOV ASKS U. S. TO SHARE ATOMIC BOMB

London, Nov. 6 (AP) — Foreign

Commissioner V. M. Molotov called for an Allied control of Japan in a Moscow address today and declared "there ought to be no secrecy about the subject of atomic energy."

In a broadcast address opening Russia's observance of the 28th anniversary of the Soviet Revolution, Molotov asserted:

"In the treatment of the defeated we should not let ourselves be guided by our feelings, but only by the necessity to prevent a new aggression. This applies to all countries which bear the responsibility for securing peace."

"We must then mention here the force of atomic energy which was experienced in the war with Japan. Nowadays there ought to be no secrecy about this subject."

First Red Suggestion

This was the first time a high Soviet official had suggested that the United States and Great Britain share their practical knowledge of atomic energy as a means of warfare.

Molotov apparently was designated to make the traditional anniversary address in place of Generalissimo Stalin, who has just returned from vacation.

The Soviet Monitor's version of Molotov's remarks concerning Japan was that the liberation of China was of the greatest importance to the world.

"It is clear that the Soviet Union considers most important the negotiation of control of all the Allies over Japan," he said. "In this question no satisfactory results have yet emerged, but the importance of satisfactory results is clear to all."

Molotov told a cheering crowd that, with victory in war, "now we can return to peacetime labor."

Does the Atom Bomb Explain Mind Power?

According to Edwin J. Dingle, world-renowned geographer, honored by leading geographical societies, the power of the atom as disclosed in the atom bomb, is small compared with little known and seldom used powers of the human brain. He maintains that man, instead of being limited by an average man power mind, has within him the mind power of a thousand men or more, as well as the energy power of the universe, which can be used in his daily affairs.

According to him, this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments. It is as amazing as the atom bomb is compared with former sources of energy. Many thousands of people throughout the world have already tried his methods. Many report improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success. Others report improvement in health, increased strength, courage, poise or energy, or a more magnetic personality.

He tells how he found these strange methods in far off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. Here, he discloses, he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. These inner mind powers, he maintains, are latent in all of us, and methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence. As part of a great movement to make his methods available to more people, a 9,000-word treatise is offered absolutely free for the time being. It reveals many startling results. Readers of this announcement can get their free copy by sending a post card or letter to the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 So. Hobart Blvd., Dept. U-373, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, because this offer may be withdrawn at any time.

To the Voters of Adams County Regardless of Party Affiliations

Here is a man who, when it came to saving America enlisted and served us willfully and unhesitatingly, had 18 months' service in the south Pacific, fought in four major battles and was wounded on Guam in which battle he was disabled. Now is our chance to help him not as Democrats or Republicans but as Americans. He was not thinking of politics when he was fighting for us, he was thinking of America and now as Americans we should think of him. Also think of what his election to office will mean to the million of other good red blooded Americans who have and are returning home when they can look at us Adams Countians and say, "well they haven't let us down."

Temple university carries its unbeaten and untied record to State College Saturday and chances are Penn State may be the toughest opponent the Templars meet all season.

Temple continues to lead the state in offense with 184 points.

'BAMA IS THIRD, GAELS RATE 5TH

(By MURRAY ROSE)

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—Alabama's big red Elephants and St. Mary's fleet Teen-Agers have zoomed into higher positions in the ratings of the first ten college football teams as the result of their latest impressive triumphs.

Alabama, fourth a week ago and almost a cinch to maintain their unbeaten and untied record, jumped into third ahead of Navy following the Crimson Tide's 60-19 massacre of Kentucky and the Tars' second narrow squeak in a row, a 6-6 tie with Notre Dame.

The Gaels from California proved their class Saturday in walloping Southern California 26-0 and sports writers the country over, voting in The Associated Press weekly poll, showered enough ballots on Jimmy Phelan's gridders to boost them into fifth place. The all-conquering Gaels were rated eighth last week.

Army and Notre Dame still ran one-two in the balloting but the Irish had a narrow edge over Alabama.

Of the 101 votes cast, Army received 86 first place nominations and 982 points, based on ten for first, nine for second, etc. Notre Dame collected three top votes and 804 points while Alabama garnered four first places and 799 points. Navy got three first place votes and 702 points. St. Mary's was honored with two top bids and 486 points and sixth place Indiana was the recipient of the three other No. 1 votes and 445 points. The rest of the top ten was made up of Michigan (345), Ohio State (280), Pennsylvania (218) and Columbia (167) in order.

Philadelphia Nov. 6 (AP)—Temple university's undefeated, untied Owls face the toughest assignment of the 1945 campaign when it seeks victory No. 7 at the expense of Penn State's Nittany Lions Saturday. Owl backfield coach Hal Williams warns, "Williams scouted State last week, watching the Nittany Lions romp easily over Syracuse 26-0. He said Joe Tepic, a hero of Guadalcanal, is the best all-around back the Owls have yet been up against."

Villanova, Nov. 6 (AP)—Villanova college's Wildcats, emerging from the 54-0 defeat to Army with no injuries, brushed up on new offensive formations today in preparation for their eighth and final game against Boston college in Philadelphia Saturday night.

The game will be the seventh in a series that began in 1934.

Sarringhaus Back, Tempest Subsides

Chicago, Nov. 6 (AP)—That tempest in a teapot that stormed on the Ohio State university football campus simmered down today as Western conference football teams began to prepare for important games this week-end.

Paul Sarringhaus, Ohio State halfback who reportedly was resigning from the conference champions' squad, was expected back for practice today. His presence conceivably could be the difference in the successful defense of the title by the Bucks in the red-hot championship race.

Sarringhaus had been reported quitting football because he had been "bawled out" by Coach Carroll Widdoes before the rest of the squad.

Neither Widdoes nor Sarringhaus would confirm the report. The two held an hour-long conference. Sarringhaus earlier had said he had not quit the squad. Widdoes also denied he ever had quit.

Cadets Have Eyes On Rose Bowl Game

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—Army's all-conquering gridders would like to play in a bowl game New Year's Day, says Lt. Col. Carl Hinkle, assistant coach at West Point.

"The boys want to go," Hinkle told the New York football writers at their weekly luncheon yesterday but he pointed out the final decision on a bid, if any comes, will be up to West Point Superintendent Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

The former all-America center at Vanderbilt indicated the Cadets were thinking in terms of the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.

Columbia Defense

Worries Lou Little

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—Columbia's flashy football Lions face their biggest hurdle on the road to their first unbeaten season since 1915

when they oppose the once-beaten

Pennsylvania Quakers Saturday in a game that will decide the unofficial Ivy league championship. The Lions have won six straight contests so far mainly on the speed and resourcefulness of their crack backs headed by galloping Gene Rossides.

But it's the defense that has

was able to bust through the light

Columbia line for three touchdowns in the last quarter and the Big Reds' forward wall is far from equal to Penn's bulky line.

Penn also has a trio of first rate

Philadelphia fans are sure to see

SERVICEMAN REPORTS
Fearful and hateful as war is, it taught this truth of brotherhood.
That we had missed in days before:
All creeds are anxious to do good.
We learned from many a glorious deed
That courage is a human trait,
And 'tis the heart, not caste and creed,
That truly makes the hero great.
Torn from life's narrow ways, we dared,
And saw and felt and understood
Whenever peril must be shared,
All men unite in brotherhood.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WASTE
Honest effort is never waste. Anger is waste. Idleness is waste. War is waste. But he who does his best to improve his own sphere, and that of his fellows, even though his efforts do not bring immediate rewards, has not wasted at all.
Merely to strive is to fulfill the great purpose of life. It isn't so much what we gain at the end as what we gain all along the route of life. He who has attained nothing but mere wealth may have a shriveled soul and a barren heart.
Useful work is not wasted. Constructive thought is not wasted. A love of beauty and an appreciation for the endless creations of nature—these are what feed the mind and increase one's already large inheritance from life itself!
In nature there is nothing wasted. Everything is creation, death and rebirth. This is the story of the glorious seasons. New life. Ever new life.
Even the waste of evil ends is, in time, wiped out by its flow back to its source of good.
We should not worry too much about our lack of progress. We may be going much farther than we know. Greatness never recognizes itself. Growth does not always show in dimensions, but in the measure of the years, and through the radiated love from one's heart.
Life is movement. Unconsciously we are drawn up or down the stream of life. This stream keeps telling us things. The grass along its banks, the songs of the birds in the trees, the age of the towering trunks, and the mellow winds that carry the rain and the warm rays from the sun, all give nourishment and life to this soul of ours.
We help to eliminate waste by constantly striving to create, to build, to organize all our forces toward a useful end.
Every time we appreciate we wipe out the suggestion of waste from our minds, for we are then gathering gain against waste.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Multiple People"

ATOMIC BOMB MEN QUITTING; TOO UNCERTAIN

By JACK STINNETT

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—Major Gen. Leslie R. Groves said today hundreds of workers, key men and scientists are quitting the atomic bomb project because of uncertainty over the future of their jobs.
Questioned about a report to this effect, General Groves, in overall charge of the atomic bomb project, told a reporter he has lost some of his best men, both at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., as well as at Los Alamos, N. Mex. He said field representatives report that in numerous instances departing workers list "uncertainty of the future" as a primary or secondary cause for quitting.

Although Groves would make no estimate of the extent to which this drawing off of key workers has cut production, he asserted that there has been considerable slowdown.

20,000 Leave
Since peak employment on the atomic bomb project more than one fourth of the workers have quit and many more have served notice they intend to leave by the first of the year according to figures provided by Maj. John Moynahan, Groves' press representative.

At the peak of employment, other than construction workers, there were 1,700 operational employees and 67,000 other workers on the project. Now there are 1,400 and 49,000 respectively. Since V-J Day, more than 6,000 workers have quit and approximately 3,000 more have indicated their intention to leave in the next month or two.

Not all of these have quit or are quitting because of job uncertainties by any means, Groves said. Many, including most of the scientific workers, offered their services for the duration or for some specific task and now are returning to their personal interests.

The general said permanent employment policies which would remove any uncertainties cannot be drawn until a law is passed clarifying the future status of atomic energy production and research and providing the executive set-up which will run the peacetime project. Those policies also include permanent wage scales.

Atomic Bomb Costs Christian Challenge

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (AP)—Money spent on the atomic bomb represents a challenge to Christians to "put two billion dollars into the educational, medical, social, economic and spiritual welfare of the underprivileged peoples of the world," says Rev. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, New York, executive secretary for foreign missions of the Methodist church.

Rev. Diffendorfer made the statement at a meeting of 1,200 men from Philadelphia Methodist conference Sunday.

Thirty-five per cent of Canada's total land area is forested.

WASHINGTON MUDDLED BY TRANSIT STRIKE

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—AFL bus and street car operators of the Capital Transit company stopped work in a dispute over wages today and a company official said the tie-up of service was complete.

"We haven't sent out a street car or bus since 5 o'clock (EST) this morning," said E. C. Giddings, assistant to the president.

A high percentage of some 300,000 federal employees depend on the system for transportation.

The work stoppage came with little warning when 2,000 union members decided to continue into the day an all night meeting which began at a burlesque theater. They recessed at 5:30 a. m. to meet later at the Pythian temple, auditorium of a fraternal order.

Demand Pay Boost
The workers, members of Local 689 of the amalgamated electric railway and motor coach employees, are demanding a 30 cents an hour increase in the driver-operator top rate of 95 cents an hour. The company countered with an offer of 7 cents more during the life of a contract which runs to June 30.

The union claims as members 4,000 of the company's 4,700 workers. Squadrons of men left the meeting to intercept other members as they arrived at work or completed their shifts.

Samuel E. Emmons, transportation manager of capital transit, told kys. He wears the Bronze Star medal, the Philippine Liberation ribbon, the Distinguished Unit badge with oak leaf cluster.

U. S. Isolationists Attacked By Russia

London, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Moscow radio Monday broadcast an attack upon "American isolationists" and accused them of being "originators of the idea of using economic and military might as a means of exerting pressure on other countries."

Former President Herbert Hoover and Senators Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont.) were singled out for special mention.

"The American isolationists Taft and Wheeler have tried to take advantage of a discussion of international problems for their own provocative ends," the broadcast said, quoting from an article in the Red Fleet magazine International Observer.

"Only the other day, Hoover proposed to refuse loans to those countries which do not agree to comply with political demands of the United States," it declared.

He's Still a Long Way from Home!

...Yes, the war was no pink tea. With V-J Day many a fighting man was too tired to think. For a long time we're going to have to do a lot of thinking and "doing" for the men who have done their part in winning the complete victory.

...That will cost money. There were well over a million casualties during this most destructive of wars. Many of these men will have to have medical care and treatment for a long time to come. Others need guidance before they can return to normal life. Millions of dollars will be needed for this and other rehabilitation work.

...That's why this Victory Loan is so important. It's your chance to prove to your fighting men that they are not forgotten... that we can never repay them for what they have done.

...Gaze deep into your heart—and remember and act. Victory has brought us tremendous obligations. Every American must do his part in this great task. Right now, our job is to buy more bonds than ever before during the Victory Loan. Buy them in humble gratitude—buy them now.

TELL COURT OF MASSACRE OF 6,000 BY JAPS

By JAMES HALSEMA
Manila, Nov. 6 (AP)—A Spanish priest and a Filipino laborer, testifying at the war criminal trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, recounted today the starvation, torture and massacre of 6,000 Filipino and Chinese civilians by Japanese troops before the fall of Manila last spring.

Father Belarmino Decelis of the Spanish Augustinian order, said that last February 5 the Japanese jammed the 6,000 civilians into the ancient Church of St. Augustine, oldest building in Manila.

The men were thrown into the old dungeons which served the Spanish 100 years ago. Women and children, he said, were kept without food in the church compound until they were so hungry they ate the grass and roots of the patio gardens.

Girl Saw Mother Slain
On February 9, the men were taken out and forced to stand in the open streets under heavy artillery fire and then marched to Fort Santiago, where the burning and slayings took place.

Juan Paloda, the Filipino, testified he was one of 100 packed into a stone dungeon 20 feet square. He was stabbed later, and left for dead in a pit with 500 other bodies.

Defense attorneys sought to show that the civilians in the historic old area might have died in the all-out American attack with tanks, point-blank artillery fire, grenades and flamethrowers.

Earlier, an 11-year-old girl, Rosalinda Andoy, showed the military commission conducting the trial, the scars of 38 bayonet wounds. She sobbed softly as she told of her mistreatment and the death of her family at the hands of the Japanese invaders.

Her father was taken away to be murdered, and her mother and her aunts were bayoneted before her eyes. Even while her mother told her to "be a good girl, dearest," a Japanese used the woman for a live bayonet target, the frail girl testified.

SERGEANT HOME

ment than American food was feared in.

"We had steaks, but they were buffalo steaks, and tough," he recalled. "We also got cauliflower and rice, all grown in China. The Chinese themselves live mostly on rice. They add hot peppers and a little meat for variety."

Sgt. Staley learned some Chinese, and attended Chinese opera during his stay in that country.

Attends Opera
"At an opera performance, the main one, usually about an hour long, is preceded by short operas. The actors are dressed in masks and feathers and dresses. They sing in high-pitched, sing-song voices, and beat on pans and drums."

In contrast, there are American movies to be seen by the GI's in China.

"The movie shows are good ones, with seats as good as we have here," Sgt. Staley said, "but the pictures are old American films. The actors and actresses speak English, but the words are shown in Chinese on the side. You hear the voices on the screen, see the Chinese characters on the side, and hear someone laugh. Then you know they understand what is going on."

Sgt. Staley was in Chungking and Kunning.

No Street Cars

"There are no street cars," he said, "but they have some old, charcoal-burning buses, which break down frequently or run out of fuel. We used to see them along the roads broken down or re-fueling and waiting until they got enough to go on again."

Great numbers of Chinese are working for the U. S. army, and are better paid and better off than they ever were before, says the sergeant. "The army treats them fine," he said. But inflation is a big problem in China.

"It takes 3,500 Chinese dollars to make one American dollar," the Gettysburg soldier declared. He brought back a small fortune in Chinese money.

Rice is the staple crop of the country, but Chinese farmers work in the rice paddies with primitive equipment, he said, using water buffaloes.

Sgt. Staley left China in September, and flew to Calcutta, where he left aboard the USS General Muir for New York October 3, arriving in New York harbor November 1. He was sent first to Camp Kilmer and then Indiantown Gap before coming home on his furlough.

REVEAL TERMS OF ARMISTICE WITH ITALIANS

By GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP) — The Allies made public the much-discussed Italian armistice today, spiking some old rumors but failing to clear up entirely why the terms were kept secret for 26 months.

Released simultaneously in Washington, London and Rome, the armistice and related documents—totaling some 10,000 words—disclosed that:

1. Exhaustive unconditional surrender terms—officially still in effect—were imposed on Italy.
2. In practice, however, the Allies never invoked some provisions and modified others substantially at frequent intervals.
3. The terms provided for no final disposition of Italian territory or property.

Groundless Rumors

Thus, the old rumor that the armistice gave the British a virtual stranglehold on Italian port cities for an extended postwar period was proved groundless. So were many other reports which had been bandied about—not without effect on the Italians—during the two years of Allied silence about the terms.

Then why the secrecy? Government officials explained it to reporters this way:

The State Department and British foreign office had discussed publication of the terms as early as December, 1943.

At that time, Allied military officials objected. They said the Germans and Mussolini's Fascist government in northern Italy could make good propaganda use of the armistice terms, especially among the pro-Allied partisan fighters.

The subject was brought up several times subsequently, but the original military viewpoint prevailed virtually until V-E Day.

Reminded by newsmen that almost half a year had elapsed since V-E Day, the officials, specifying they were not to be identified further, said the British and American governments felt after the Potsdam Big Three conference that a final peace treaty with Italy soon would be written.

It was believed, these officials added, that "no good purpose" would be served by prior publication of the armistice terms.

Acute Croup Fatal To 5-Year-Old Lad

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (AP)—A five-year-old boy died today under a pulmotor rushed to his bedside in an attempt to relieve the strangulating effects of acute croup.

The parents of the boy, Allen Rile, Jr., were awakened during the night by his hoarse, ringing cough. They put vaporizers beneath his bed, but when his breathing became increasingly difficult his father began artificial respiration and his mother called police for help.

Two groups of firemen, one with a pulmotor, and the family doctor sped to the house, but the boy succumbed three hours after start of the struggle to save him.

Dr. Carl Fischer, the child's physician, attributed death to the extremely rapid development of the false membrane which obstructs the respiratory tract in croup.

Meat-Packing Firm Drivers To Strike

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6 (AP)—AFL drivers at five local branches of large meat-packing firms have voted to strike, the National Labor Relations board announced today.

Frank M. Kieller, regional NLRB director, said the votes were cast by employees of Swift and company, Wilson and company, Armour and company, Braddock and Pittsburgh plants, and Cudahy Packing company, Braddock and McKeesport plants. Nearly 50 workers are involved.

The local at the St. Louis Independent Packing company, with five drivers, voted not to strike.

Wage and other disputes are involved. About 300 drivers for six Pittsburgh packing houses will have an NLRB strike vote November 21.

FIRST POST-WAR FRENCH RULERS CONVENE TODAY

By ROBERT M. WILSON

Paris, Nov. 6 (AP)—The first elected French legislature in five years convenes today, charged by the electorate with the task of replacing the 1875 constitution with a foundation of constitutional law upon which the fourth republic of France will be constructed.

The first official act of the assembly will be the formal acceptance of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's wartime government.

Under the procedure previously laid down, the assembly will request de Gaulle to continue a caretaker government until later in the week, when the delegates select a president of the provisional government. There seemed little doubt that de Gaulle would serve as president in the seven-month period allotted the assembly for creation of a constitution to be submitted to a people's referendum.

The tall general who led France's fight for liberation will be present when the delegates sit for the first time in the red plush seats of the Chamber of Deputies in the Palais du Bourbon.

Oldest Is 81

By custom the assembly's oldest member sits in the president's seat to supervise the parliamentary organization. This time he is 81-year-old Paul Cutoff, delegate from Algeria, who was given the task of reading a letter from De Gaulle asserting that the tenure of the wartime government had ended and that its president was relinquishing his extraordinary wartime powers.

The 586-member constituent assembly is not yet complete. Some must yet be chosen in run-off elections in the colonies, which have a total of 64 delegates.

The Communists, who won 152 seats in France alone, will have the greatest representation of any single party. The Socialists have 142 members, and the Christian Democratic Mouvement Republicain Populaire has 138, aside from its colonial seats. These three parties' leaders—the big three of France—met last night to put final touches on their programs for the constituent assembly.

Make A Final Garden Clean-Up
There are several tasks around the flower and vegetable garden which should be completed within the next few days, tasks on which next year's success depends in no small measure. Certain destructive insect enemies live over from year to year in refuse left carelessly on the premises; plant diseases lurk in litter strewn about the garden area or in adjoining fence rows and other idle nooks. It is to remove these dangers that a final clean-up is urged at this time.

First in almost all vegetable garden sanitation plans is the importance of gathering and burning all cabbage debris before winter. Cabbage is heir to many severe diseases carried around the year in contaminated leaves, stalks and undeveloped heads left in the field. Placing these on compost heaps, in manure piles or in fence rows may not only fail to curb the menace but actually spread the ills wider next year. Burning is the only safe method of disposal.

Peach, plum and cherry trees where brown rot has stricken the fruits demand thorough clean-ups before winter. First in this program is the gathering of all "mummified" fruits on the trees and among fallen leaves. These should be burned or buried deeply. Perhaps burial is the wiser course for disposing of stone fruit leaves because they contain organic matter the grower cannot afford to destroy by burning. Of course, they should be spaded under deep enough to prevent escape of the rot-producing spores next spring. If sod is maintained beneath the trees, the refuse may easily be turned under in the garden or elsewhere in soils needing more organic matter.

Grape leaves and other waste vegetation left near vines should likewise be spaded under deeply at this time to control several grape insects and diseases which find a winter harbor among the exposed dead foliage.

Many gardeners are unable to find a satisfactory method for ridding the garden and truck field of stalks left from sweet corn. In the compost heap these decay slowly and even when they are plowed under they decompose at a rate that causes them to interfere with the following year's cultivation work. One of the best solutions of the corn stalk problem, particularly in the general of the Indies, who released the program, disclosed that it had been presented more than a week ago to Indonesian Nationalist leaders as a basis for settlement of their demands. He expressed his hope for a speedy return of order to Java so that a round table conference might be convened to discuss all aspects of his proposals.

H. J. Van Mook, acting governor

His statement was issued in an atmosphere of growing tension, emphasized by a new outbreak of street fighting in Batavia between Indonesian extremist and Dutch troops.

Indonesian leaders were reported to have urged Van Mook not to release the document, fearing that his proposals—which are far short of their demands—would only increase the rift between their people and the Dutch.

In essence, Van Mook's statement was a reiteration of previous Dutch offers to grant the Indonesians self government and independence within the limits of a Dutch commonwealth, but it was reinforced by assurances of racial equality and full partnership with the Netherlands.

He asserted, however, that in the interests of restoring order it was necessary that all arms "which have been passed over legally by the Japanese or which have been stolen must be restored to the Allies and the carrying of arms must be restricted to peoples legally entitled or licensed to do so."

PLAN TO MAKE INDONESIA A FULL PARTNER

Batavia, Nov. 6 (AP)—The government of the Netherlands East Indies, trying to restore order in this land wracked by a struggle for independence, made public today a plan for "rapid development of Indonesia as a partner in a kingdom which will be constructed to guarantee the self-respect of all member-peoples."

COURT FIGHTS LEADING STATE VOTING TODAY

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (AP)—The absence of a national issue was expected to keep thousands of Pennsylvania voters away from the polls today in the first peacetime election since Pearl Harbor.

Two state superior court judgeships were the only contests of state wide nature. Local candidates and issues, in the main, dominated the ballot.

Democratic and Republican leaders, regarding this "off year" election as a testing ground for the 1946 gubernatorial and congressional battles, made last-minute efforts to get out the vote.

Neither of the major parties, however, expected figures to reach the 1944 total of 3,794,787—Democrat: 1,940,479; Republican: 1,835,048; miscellaneous parties: 19,260.

A total of 4,405,771 persons were eligible to vote today, 153,560 less than last year. The figures break down as follows: Democrat, 1,778,204; Republican, 2,572,054; non-partisan and minor parties combined 55,513.

Pittsburgh Fight
The contest attracting most interest nationally is the Pittsburgh mayoralty in which Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence is pitted against Robert N. Waddell, Republican. Democrats have been in power in Pittsburgh since 1933.

Five kinds of police officers were ordered to patrol the polls in the smoky city. Both parties have accused each other of raising huge "slush funds" and both have predicted victories.

Scranton and 18 third class cities elected mayors. Scranton Republican Howard J. Snowden sought reelection against Democrat James T. Hanlon.

In Philadelphia, where the state's largest number of voters are concentrated, only row offices and magisterial places were at stake, but both parties expected results to give an inkling of what may come next year.

Interest was attracted to the superior court contests because of the addition of the American Labor Party to the ballot.

Republicans have five members on the seven-member court and today's election gave Democrats a chance to swing the balance in their favor for the first time since 1895—the year the court was established.

Newlyweds Honored At Surprise Shower

A surprise shower was held for Mr. and Mrs. Bobby L. Crouse at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Crouse, of Gettysburg R. 1, on Saturday evening. Many beautiful gifts were received by the newlyweds. Refreshments were served.

at all, and goes to church every Sunday. The closest he comes to debauchery is a fondness for corn pone."

The war is over—but that's not the whole story. Let's finish the job!

Why must we have a Victory Loan?

(1) To pay the bills for munitions still unpaid.

(2) To pay the cost of guarding Germany and Japan.

(3) To pay for the care of our wounded and disabled.

(4) To pay off and provide benefits for 8,000,000 veterans to be discharged by next July.

(5) To keep the lid on price inflation.

The Victory Loan drive extends through December 8, 1945. Its eleven billion dollar quota includes a four billion dollar goal for individual Americans. A lot of money!

The money is needed. Why?

The Treasury must meet the enormous obligations incurred in the achievement of victory. Government expenditures are being drastically reduced—and this will continue. Despite this, however, the aftermath of war carries grave responsibilities that must not be shirked, and in facing this task every American's help is needed. Before the end of 1945, the people's Treasury must look to the people for further support.

Army and Navy

A substantial army and navy must be maintained until order is restored throughout the world. It means a fighting force to stand watching—and waiting—and hoping, but still watching. It means occupation forces, their equipment, supplies, their pay—small indeed compared to the value of their precious extra days away from home, but all adding up to a lot of money.

TREAT EIGHT CRASH VICTIMS

Honolulu, Nov. 6 (AP)—Eight survivors of an army transport command plane's forced landing at sea were in an army hospital here today under treatment for injuries.

One of the survivors said that the body of an unidentified WAC was among seven corpses brought here from the wreckage.

Search continued for 11 persons still missing. Planes and navy surface vessels scouted the area 460-miles northeast of Oahu, where the Liberator-type transport and its 21 passengers and five crewmen met disaster Saturday en route to the mainland from Honolulu.

The escort carrier Casablanca brought the eight survivors and seven bodies to Honolulu. Members of a special army board of inquiry immediately cautioned the survivors against discussing details of their experience.

The ATC said one of the dead was Norman C. Fisher, pilot of the plane, of Fairfield, Calif. The five other crewmen were among the missing.

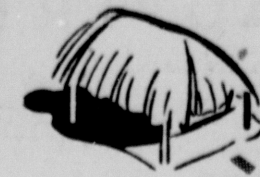

The eight survivors included: Cpl. Harry Toben, Philadelphia, compound leg fracture, condition critical.

Everybody's asking... "When can I get new tires?"

HERE'S THE FIRST POSTWAR NEWS ABOUT U. S. ROYALS

When can I get new tires?

It won't be long now. War production is over. The entire facilities of our 5 giant plants are rolling out tires and tubes 100% for civilian use. This great production capacity is devoted to turning out more and more tires for you.

By January 1, 1946 we expect to be making as many civilian tires every day as we made before the war. Next spring we will be turning out more tires than we ever built before.

What about rationing?

We expect the government to continue rationing for at least 60 days. Present indications are it will be removed or greatly relaxed before the end of 1945.

How good will the new tires be?

Since Pearl Harbor, "U. S." scientists have made as much progress in applying synthetic materials to tire manufacture as had been made in the previous three decades with natural rubber.

When you buy your U. S. Royals, you'll buy more than just a good tire—you'll buy a great tire. Car owners are sending us reports from every section of the country that they are getting prewar performance and better from their U. S. Royals.

From tire dealers, tire service men and tire engineers, men who have made tires their life work, the evidence piles up—U. S. Royals are out in front in mileage, in safety, in all-around performance.
